12.1 Figures captions – main text part (fig. 1–99)

Figure 8. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Sunken-featured dwellings in excavation area 2008–2016. A – sunken-featured dwelling with stone oven from common stone, B – sunken-featured dwelling with stone oven from quernstones, C – other settlement features and graves, D – graves, E – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 11. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Specific types of settlement feature. A – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, B – other settlement features and graves, C – deposit of stones, quernstones and rotary grindstones, D – solitary sunken ovens, E – well, F – exploitation pit, G – large sunken features, H – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 19. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of non-specific features by shape. A – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, B – other settlement features and graves, C – circular features, D – oval features, E – rectangular features, F – tub-shaped features, G – trough-shaped features, H – other features, I – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 20. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Photographic documentation of the southern half of the fill in trough-shaped feature O147.

Figure 27. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Palisade trenches from enclosure. A – palisade trenches from enclosure of the church cemetery, Z04 – palisade trench Z04, Z05 – palisade trench Z05, Z06 – palisade trench Z06, B – other settlement features and graves, C – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, D – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020. Sections of trenches Z04, Z05 and Z06 in cross-section.

Figure 32. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Recent interventions and recent buildings captured by excavations in the suburb between 2007 and 2020. A – concrete foundations, B – recent digging, C – graves, D – early medieval trenches, E – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, F – settlement features, G – excavated area.

Figure 33. Břeclav – Pohansko, North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves in the settlement. Application of stones in a grave. A – stone under the skull, B – symbolic stone lining of the grave pit and a stone under the skull, C – graves in the church cemetery, D – dispersed settlement graves excavated between 2018 and 2020, E – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, F – settlement features, G – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 34. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves in the settlement. Position of the body of the buried individuals. A – unidentified, B – flexed, C – extended, D – extended position with flexed upper limbs, E – graves in the church cemetery, F – dispersed settlement graves excavated between 2018 and 2020, G – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, H – settlement features, I – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 37. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves in the settlement. Gender of the buried individuals. A – child, B – man, C – woman, D – undefined, E – graves in the church cemetery, F – dispersed settlement graves excavated between 2018 and 2020, G – church foundations and a stone and mortar corner, H – settlement features, I – excavated area. Grey – areas excavated between 2018 and 2020.

Figure 52. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dislocation of fragments belonging to a single ceramic vessel. A – excavation area, B – campaigns 2019-2020, C – feature, D – above-ground house, E – grave, F – palisade trench, G – stone and mortar structures, H – area of the analysis of fragments belonging to single ceramic vessels.

Figure 57. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of individual small and non-ceramic finds. A – excavation area, B – campaigns 2019-2020, C – feature, D – above-ground house, E – grave, F – palisade trench, G – stone and mortar structures, H – small finds.

Figure 59. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of ground stone artefacts BI_brousek – whetstones, BI_brus – rotary grindstones. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 60. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds from the category of household furnishing and games. Dum_klic – keys, dum_hry – astragals and a game stone, dum – so-called torch holders. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 61. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds associated with the presence of military elite. Elita_krouzek – rings from chain mail armour, elita_mec_hlav – sword pommel, elita_mec_pric – sword cross-guard. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 62. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of unidentifiable iron fragments. FeFr – thin wires, sticks, sheet metal, etc. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 63. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds associated with belts, spurs and straps. Garnitura_nako – belt end, garnitura_prez – buckles, garnitura_pruvl – shackles. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 64. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of iron bars. Hrivna – axe-shaped bars. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 65. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of artefacts associated with hygiene. Hygiena – razor, comb, tweezers and scalpel. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 66. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of horseman's equipment. Jezdec_ost – spurs, jezdec_trm – stirrup, jezdec_udid – mouth bit. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 67. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of objects of daily use. Kazdodenost – hook, firesteel, Silesian metal bowl, ring and clay roasting tray. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 68. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of building and other metal fittings. Konstrukce – building and other metal fittings. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 69. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds associated with iron smithing and metal casting. Kovovyroba_bronz – fragments of bronze artefacts, kovovyroba_dyzna – nozzle, kovovyroba_nastroj – metal punches, hammer, draw-plate for the production of wire, and metal needles, kovovyroba_odpad – thin wires, slag and shards with molten metal, kovovyroba_olovo – led bars, discs, strips, sheet metal, cast lead and lead weights, kovovyroba_tyglik – fragments of crucibles. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 70. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of bone and antler industry. KPI_hrot_kost – bone sharpened tools and awls, KPI_hrot_paroh – antler sharpened tools and awls, KPI_kost_jine – other bone artefacts, KPI_paroh_jine – other antler artefacts. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 71. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of metal tools. Nastroj – cutters and other unspecified tools. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 72. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of fragments or complete knives. Nuz – knives. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 73. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds dated to prehistory – clasps, pins, etc. Pravek – artefacts dated to prehistory and the protohistoric period. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 74. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of glass objects. Sklo – other objects from glass, sklo_hladitko – glass smoother, sklo_nadoba – glass vessels, sklo_struska – glassy slag. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 75. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds of jewellery and beads. Kristal – bead from rock crystal, sperk – other jewellery, koralek – beads, sperk_nausnice – earrings, sperk_presten – rings, sperk_gombik – gombiks, sperk_PB_zavesek – lead pendant. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 76. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of tools used by carpenters, joiners, coopers, etc. Tesar_stolar – cooper's saw, chisel, saw, draw-knife, carving knife, axe, adze and drill. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 77. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of tools and artefacts used in cloth making and processing. Textil_preslen – whorls, textil_zavazi – loom weights for, textil_nuzky – spring scissors, textil_vochle – needles from hackles, textil_jehla – needles. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 79. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Spatial distribution of finds of arrowheads without shape classification. Zbran_sipka – arrowheads. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

amples used in the construction of heating devices. Zernov – quernstones. A – graves, B – features, C – palisade trenches, D – excavated area, E – stone and mortar structures. Black marks – finds in the top layer, grey marks – finds in the fill of sunken features.

Figure 82. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Preliminary interpretation model of spatial structures in the North-East Suburb. A – excavation area, B – campaigns 2019-2020, C – settlement feature, D – above-ground house, E – grave, F – palisade trenches, G – stone and mortar structures, H – reconstructed roads, I – potential above-ground houses.

Figure 83. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Interpretation model of the North-East Suburb in the context of the whole Great Moravian agglomeration (after Prišťáková – Milo 2021, with additions). A – excavation area, B – geophysically identified settlement feature, C – excavated settlement feature. D – graves, E – palisade trenches, F – reconstructed roads, G – reconstructed plots, H – churches, I – potential above-ground houses, J – gates.

Tables

Table I. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Excavated area and numbers of settlement features and graves in the individual campaigns.

Table II. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves from the settlement (campaigns 2013–2016). Shapes of grave pits in settlement dispersion graves.

Table III. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves from the settlement (campaigns 2013–2016). Volumes of grave pits in the individual anthropological categories.

Table IV. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves from the settlement (campaigns 2013–2016). Sex and age of buried individuals.

Table V. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves from the settlement (campaigns 2013–2016). Age categories of buried individuals (NB – New born).

Table VI. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dispersed graves from the settlement (campaigns 2013–2016). Categories of grave superposition with another archaeological feature.

Table VII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2008–2016). Representation of animal species by number and weight of bone fragments.

Table VIII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2008–2018). Numbers and total weight of finds from the cultural top layer and fills in settlement features.

Table IX. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2008 – 2018). Numbers and total weight of finds from the cultural top layer by elevation level.

Table X. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2008 – 2018). Numbers and total weight of finds from the cultural top layer by elevation level and year of excavation.

Table XI. Table of size categories of ceramic fragments.

Table XII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2012–2018). Number of fragments in the individual size categories in the excavation campaigns.

Table XIII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb (2012–2018). Comparison of the number of size categories of ceramic fragments at elevation level 1 and 2.

Table XIV. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. List of signs used in description of early medieval ceramics.

Table XV. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Principal component analysis (PCA) of pottery assemblages from sunken features. Table of eigenvalues.

Table XVI. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Principal component analysis (PCA) of pottery assemblages from sunken features. Table of factor coefficients / weights.

Table XVII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Discrimination analysis of pottery assemblages from sunken features. Summary of Canonical Discriminant Functions and their eigenvalues.

Table XXI. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Discrimination analysis of pottery assemblages from sunken features. Inclusion of individual contexts into predicted chronological groups.

Table XII. Břeclav – Pohansko. Discrimination analysis of pottery assemblages from sunken features. Classification of ceramic contexts from the North-East Suburb (SVP), Kostice – Zadní hrúd (KZH) and the Forest Nursery (LŠ_2 – 5) into chronological groups (VM_2 – VM_5) by new discrimination analysis.

Table XXIII. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Pottery assemblages from sunken features empirically dated to pre-Great Moravian phase RS1-2 (6th – 8th century).

Table XXIV. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Dendrochronological dating of well O266. Results of the correlation of the individual measurements (j.380, j.381) and the mean curve (BrPo1) with standard chronologies (czgestom2001, MIKST1-M, MIKST4-M, JIHOMOR-M). A = number of measurements; mean curve (standard chronology), B = T. test 1 (after Baillie & Pilcher), C = T. test 2 (after Hollstein), D = parallel-ism of curves in per cent, E = number of measured annual rings, F = termination, G = dating.

Table XXV. Břeclav – Pohansko. North-East Suburb. Radiocarbon dating of samples from settlement features (O) and human skeletons (H). Uncalibrated data BP (radiocarbon years before 1950) and data in calibrated extent AD with a probability of 2 sigma (95.4 %).

Fontaine removing the skeleton from an excavated grave; 3 – photo of the research area; 4 – preparation of the skeleton from grave 153 situated under the floor of the rotunda (carried out by M. Příbylová).

Tab. 321. Photo documentation of field research. Year 2011: 1 – photo from the archaeological commission showing the head of research J. Macháček and the then head of the Institute of Archaeology and Museology Z. Měřínský, debating. Year 2012: 2 – repairing the sieves (students V. Nosek and M. Vágner); 3 – sifting material from the infill of features and graves using a motorised sieve; 4 – preparation of the stone-mortar accumulation; 5 – removing a recent concrete column sunk in the infill of settlement feature 130; 6 – form documentation of archaeological features (documented by R. Přichystalová).

Tab. 322. Photo documentation of field research. Year 2012: 1 – photo documenting the waiting for shade during photographing (students V. Nosek and M. Vágner); 2 – taking a sample for microstratigraphy (P. Dresler, student K. Piačková); 3 – preparing a lunch inside a military tent serving as the field laboratory (P. Dresler and V. Nosek); final photo of the research team (so-called Pohansko-team, students of the Institute of Archaeology and Museology at the Faculty of Arts of Masaryk University and a foreign expedition of students of archaeology from College of DuPage led by M. Dietz);

Tab. 323. Photo documentation of field research. Year 2013: 1 – photo of removing the infill from settlement feature 164 (students V. Bača and M. Labuda); 2 – photo from the archaeological commission, displayed quernstones and honed stones from the infill of feature 164 (from left to right: J. Žemlička, B. Klíma, Z. Měřínský, E. Zumpfe, R. Zatloukal, H. Zbranek, R. Stránská, P. Šlézar, M. Dejmal, D. Parma, J. Mařík, 3. Ungerman, L. Macháňová); 3 – women from the technical support of research: B. Machová, M. Salvetová, M. Prišťáková; 4 – photo of removing the infill from sunken featured dwelling 194 with a hoard of iron objects. Year 2014: 5 – cleaning up the subsoil; 6 – Swedish tower – instrumental in taking photos looking down.

Tab. 324. Photo documentation of field research. Year 2014: 1 – final photo taken with the aid of the Swedish tower – the research team crammed together in settlement feature 178; 2 – preparation of the settlement feature 203 (student J. Zeman taking up the challenge); 3 – direct encounter between the past and the present (M. Prišťáková); year 2015: 4 – pitching the military tent – our field laboratory; 5 – view of the stone corner and the stone structure of settlement feature 224. Year 2016: 6 – sifting excavated soil using hand-held sieves.
