

CONTENTS

LINGUISTICS

- Nataša KOSTIČ: The Distributional Asymmetries of English Antonyms in Language Use . . . . . 5
- Halyňa KRYZHANIVSKA: The Media Genre of the Personal Account: Rhetorical and Linguistic Construction of the Socio-Cultural Setting. . . . . 33
- Danica MALEKOVÁ: The Comic of the Heroes – a Case Study of the Role of Humour in Reflecting National Identity . . . . . 53
- Jana PELCLOVÁ: Signifying Brno – Creating Urban Space, Shaping the City . . . . . 69
- Irmina WAWRZYCZEK: Racist and Neo-Nazi Panic in the Euro 2012 Coverage
by the British Press: A Discursive Failure in Interculturalism . . . . . 89

LITERARY AND CULTURAL STUDIES

- Lianne BARNARD: Is Philip Roth ‘against Political Correctness’? ‘Whiteness’ as Desired
Norm and Invisible Terror in The Human Stain . . . . . 107
- Dagmara DREWNIĄK: Between the Global and the Private: the Second World War and the Cold War in two novels by Lithuanian-Canadians . . . . . 127
- Klára KOLINSKÁ: Staging the North-South Meridian: Spatial and Ontological Explorations of the Northern Experience in Two Canadian Dramas . . . . . 143
- Bożena KUÇAŁA: Penelope Lively’s Autobiographical Memory . . . . . 157
- Robert KUSEK: Blue is (not) the Warmest Colour: Contradictions of Grieving in Joan Didion’s Blue Nights . . . . . 171
- Zsófia Anna TÓTH: Disney’s Violent Women: In Quest of a ‘Fully Real’ Violent Woman in American Cinema . . . . . 185
- Eva VALENTOVÁ: Dreaming in Fire and Working in Clay: The Problem of Translating Ideas into Words in Arthur Machen’s The Great God Pan . . . . . 213

REVIEWS

- Katarzyna MOLEK-KOZAKOWSKA: Ruth Breeze and Inés Olza (eds.): *Evaluation
in Media Discourse: European Perspectives* . . . . . 233

